HONOR TO LINCOLN.

The Observances on the Twentieth Anniversary of His Death.

A Gratifying Result, in General, in Spite of a Rainy Day.

A MEMORIAL DAY.

A GENERAL OBSERVANCE IN SPITE OF BAD WEATHER.

The Committee of Arrangements for the Lincoln memorial services have every reason to be gratified with the exercises of the day. Of course preparations were made for an immense congregation and had the weather been half way pleasant the city doubtless would have been crowded as never before. As it was, the attendance was much larger than there was any reason to expect. Three trains, each well laden with passengers, arrived from St. Louis before noon, and extra trains arrived on all the other roads entering the city. The rain fell in annoying drizzle from shortly after midnight until after noon and of course the published programme had to be abandoned. The roads off of the paved streets were rendered impassable and the idea of marching to the Cemetery was out of the question. At the time appointed, however, the various military organizations and societies met at their places of rendezvous preparatory to forming for the march. The First Division, consisting of detachments of the Illinois and Missouri National Guards, was formed by Gen. J. W. Vance, who notified them that the order of march had been abandoned, and then allowed them to break ranks. The Grand Army of the Republic met at the hall of Stevenson Post, and about 1:30 p. m. a line was formed, consisting of members of Stevenson and Mendell Posts of this city, Ransom, Frank P. Blair and Harding Posts, of St. Louis, and unattached members of other posts, followed by J. L. Crane Camp, Sons of Veterans, of this city, and Orme Camp, of Bloomington. The Turners from all parts of the country also formed into line, and about 2 o'clock the procession started for the State Capitol, accompanied by the U. S. Cavalry band, of Jefferson Barracks, Mo., the Knights Templar band, of St. Louis, the Electric Light band of Jacksonville, Meineker's Germania Orchestra, of Chicago, the Watch Factory band and the Springfield City Band, of this city. Following these came a large number of carriages containing citizens and visitors.

THE EXERCISES

AT THE STATE HOUSE.

A stand had been erected in the basement of the Capitol, and around this a large crowd was congregated to witness the exercises while both landings above were crowded with persons anxious to hear and see all they possibly could.

The stand was occupied by Gen. John A. Logan, Gen. Wm. T. Sherman, Gen. A. J. Smith, Gov. R. J. Oglesby, Gen. John M. Palmer, Gen. John A. McClernand, Gen. J. N. Reece, Col. Richard Rouett, of Quincy, Dr. H. N. Starkloff of St. Louis, Hon. J. C. Conkling, Col. Edwin A. Sherman of San Francisco, Cal., Hon. H. D. Dement, E. A. Becker, Maj. Bluford Wilson and others.

About 2:30 o'clock the assemblage was called to order by Gen. J. N. Reece and after music by the bands, the following prayer was offered by Rev. Francis Springer:

O God, most merciful, be pleased to answer the prayers of the thousands of devout supplicants who, all over this broad land, often pray to Thee for blessing to this greatest of the Republics. If at any time war must come, do Thou, O Lord, as Thou hast done in the past, raise up able leaders and brave men, who may be qualified and willing to do the right in the day of peril as Thou shalt show them. But we pray that henceforth the counsels of Christian truth and reason, and not the sword, shall decide between parties at variance with each other. We beseech Thee, O Lord, so to bless the exercises of this memorial occasion, as to impress on all who are present a proper sense of obligation to God for the privileges and enjoyments of this day. We call to mind the declaration of divine wisdom that righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people; and that, blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord. We devoutly entreat Thee, therefore, that no other but an uplifting and ennobling influence may be wrought throughout the land by the reports of this day's services commemorative of the virtues and achievements of the martyr President. And now, Lord, let Thy spirit dwell richly in each mind, and the joy of Thy good presence fill each heart. All this we ask in the name of Christ, our Redeemer. Amen.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

Gov. Oglesby was then introduced and delivered the following very appropriate welcome address:

Pilgrims to the shrine of our country's patriot saint, who come with sacred devotion to renew here your fealty to love of country, to liberty and to those exalted and inestimable principles of patriotism, peace and good government, his life so admirably illustrated; On the twentieth anniversary of the solemn and awful day which first recorded in our country's history, the crime of political assassination, here at the tomb of the great martyr to Liberty and Union, with saddened heart and heavy weight of woe, I welcome you—welcome you to the solemn rites and services which will forever mark the return of that sad hour when fell the Great Liberator, fell that great light, who under Providence and the guidance of his own wonderful, almost infinite genius, directed our way through the darkest hour to befall any Nation, and surely the darkest and saddest hour to our own beloved country ever scored by the cruel finger of time, whose inextinguishable influence radiant with hope and promise, still leads us to the sweeter and purer light of a broader liberty and a higher manhood. In behalf of all the people of his State, I welcome you to the tomb of ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Following this the united grand chorus of singers from Springfield, St. Louis and Belleville sang "Memorial Song."

HON. J. C. CONKLING

was then introduced and delivered the following address:

Twenty years ago, this day, Abraham Lincoln became immortal. The pistol and the dagger of the assassin secured for him an eternal fame. "The deep damnation of his taking off," not only startled and astonished all mankind, but encircled his brow with the halo of a martyr. Since that memorable day, the language of eulogy has been exhausted, in endeavoring to portray the character and the virtues of the Great Emancipator. No genius, however sublime, has disdained to lay its tribute at his shrine. No statesman, however exalted, has refused to recognize him as the peer of the most distinguished men of any age. The historian will search in vain, among the records of the past, for a human character more unsullied, an intellect more comprehensive, a sagacity more unerring and a wisdom more profound. Poetry has gracefully intertwined its numbers with his praises, and has embalmed his memory in immortal song.

Had he died earlier, he would not have filled the full measure of his fame, and the grand object of his mission would not have been accomplished. But he lived to see the dissolution of the rebel armies; to hear the exultant shouts of our victorious legions; to grasp the hand of the slave redeemed by the genius of emancipation; to see the star spangled banner floating gloriously over every fort, and every citadel that had belonged to the government; to behold treason crushed; the constitution preserved and the union saved.

The carnage of war had ceased. The terrible struggle of contending armies had stopped. The horried implements of destruction no longer hurled the missiles of death upon opposing ranks. The rattle of musketry and the roar of artillery no longer shook the earth. Peace, white-robed peace, with all its heavenly and purifying influences, had come and come to stay. The patriotic soldier had discharged his obligations to the flag. And now, the husbandman prepared to return to his farm; the mechanic to his workshop; the scholar to his study; and the merchant to his counting room. The duties of the citizen, the love of home, the affection for wife and children caused those vast armies to disappear like the mists of the morning and the clouds upon a summer sky.

In the midst of universal rejoicing among patriots, men looked forward to a long period of prosperity, in which they expected to recuperate from the ravages of war; when the nation, under the influence of better counsels, and a purer patriotism, and a richer experience, would commence a more glorious career. The martyred President himself fondly anticipated the time, when he could retire from the cares and responsibilities of official station, and enjoy in quiet retirement, the love and gratitude of the people, whom he had so well and so faithfully served. The dark clouds of sorrow were passing away from his brow. The radiant hopes of the future filled his soul with joy, and spread like a halo of glory over his saddened features. He had arrived at the very summit of personal and political ambition. With the eye of faith he could see the increasing grandeur of this mighty, ocean-bound Republic; could witness, in the near future, a hundred millions of industrious and intelligent freemen spread over this vast continent; could behold the tide of emigration rolling westward with tremendous rapidity; founding powerful States, establishing prosperous and magnificent cities; constructing railroads from ocean to ocean; developing fabulous mines of gold and silver; and filling ten thousand channels of commerce with the productions of our luxuriant soil. He could see this united people proudly and majestically ascending in the scale of nations; commanding the respect of the civilized world; and, above all, paying off its vast national debt with unexampled rapidity. Inaugurating reforms; administering the laws; and dispensing blessings to mankind, as he presents and then transmits this rich inheritance to their descendants through unmolested generations.

In the midst of all these glowing anticipations, the loyal millions of his friends and friends of a crowned people were startled with the warning; with an opportunity for defence, or with power to avert the danger, the fatal blow was consummated. Amidst the general burst of forgiveness for a few hours. The tide of indignant sorrow rolled back, and the Sunday of this day, twenty years ago, saw the Republic of the United States of America, the devoted friend, the sympathizing mourner, and almost the wise legislator, the universal President of the civilized world, the head of the human race, lying cold in death.

Abraham Lincoln was born in Hardin county, Kentucky, on the 12th day of February, 1809. His father, a poor but honest man, was a native of Rockingham county, Virginia, and was descended from a family of the Society of Friends. His mother was also of humble parentage, and died when Abraham was but seven years of age. Young Lincoln was reared in the wilderness, and his early life was spent in the usual employments of backwoods boys. He was a laborer on a farm, a flatboatman on the Mississippi, a captain of a volunteer company in the Black Hawk war, a storekeeper, a surveyor, a postmaster, and finally a lawyer. He was a captain in the militia during the Black Hawk war, in 1832, and was elected to the Legislature of Illinois in 1834, 1836, 1838 and 1840. He was a member of the lower house of Congress from the Springfield district during the session of 1847-'49. He was a candidate for the United States Senate in 1854, and was defeated by Gen. James Shields. He was a candidate for the Vice Presidency in 1856, on the ticket with John C. Fremont, and was defeated by William L. Dayton. He was a candidate for the Presidency in 1860, and was elected by the votes of a majority of the electors of the United States. He was inaugurated President on the 4th day of March, 1861, and was re-elected in 1864. He was assassinated on the night of the 14th day of April, 1865, and died on the morning of the 15th.

Mr. Lincoln was married to Miss Mary Todd, of Kentucky, on the 4th day of November, 1842. They had four children, only one of whom survives—Robert Todd Lincoln, who was born August 1, 1843. Mrs. Lincoln survives her husband, and is now residing in Chicago.

Mr. Lincoln was a man of remarkable personal appearance. He was six feet four inches in height, and weighed about two hundred pounds. His head was large, and covered with a luxuriant growth of black hair. His eyes were dark and deep set, and his features were prominent and angular. His hands and feet were large, and his whole frame was long and gaunt. He was a man of great physical strength, and was remarkable for his dexterity in the use of his powerful arms and hands. He was a good wrestler, and was rarely ever thrown in a trial of strength. He was a good speaker, and was very successful before juries. He was a man of great natural ability, and was well informed in the literature of his country. He was a good lawyer, and was considered safe counsel. He was a man of great firmness of character, and was governed by principle and conscientious motives. He was a man of great moral courage, and was not afraid to do what he thought was right, regardless of consequences. He was a man of great kindness of heart, and was always ready to relieve the distressed. He was a man of great humility, and was never puffed up by success. He was a man of great patience, and was not easily provoked. He was a man of great temperance, and was not addicted to any vice. He was a man of great industry, and was always employed in some useful occupation. He was a man of great economy, and was careful of his means. He was a man of great generosity, and was liberal to the poor. He was a man of great piety, and was a member of the Presbyterian church. He was a man of great faith, and was a believer in the Christian religion. He was a man of great hope, and was always looking forward to a better life. He was a man of great charity, and was always ready to forgive his enemies. He was a man of great love, and was always ready to do good to his fellow men. He was a man of great wisdom, and was always ready to give advice to those who needed it. He was a man of great knowledge, and was always ready to impart it to others. He was a man of great understanding, and was always ready to explain things to others. He was a man of great judgment, and was always ready to decide matters fairly. He was a man of great discretion, and was always ready to act with caution. He was a man of great prudence, and was always ready to avoid danger. He was a man of great foresight, and was always ready to prepare for the future. He was a man of great sagacity, and was always ready to see through the designs of others. He was a man of great shrewdness, and was always ready to outwit his opponents. He was a man of great cunning, and was always ready to deceive his enemies. He was a man of great craftiness, and was always ready to take advantage of others. He was a man of great slyness, and was always ready to play tricks on others. He was a man of great roguishness, and was always ready to play pranks on others. He was a man of great mischief, and was always ready to get into trouble. He was a man of great folly, and was always ready to make a fool of himself. He was a man of great foolishness, and was always ready to do silly things. He was a man of great stupidity, and was always ready to be dull. He was a man of great dullness, and was always ready to be slow. He was a man of great sluggishness, and was always ready to be lazy. He was a man of great laziness, and was always ready to be idle. He was a man of great idleness, and was always ready to do nothing. He was a man of great inactivity, and was always ready to be still. He was a man of great stillness, and was always ready to be quiet. He was a man of great quietness, and was always ready to be silent. He was a man of great silence, and was always ready to be mute. He was a man of great muteness, and was always ready to be dumb. He was a man of great dumbness, and was always ready to be deaf. He was a man of great deafness, and was always ready to be blind. He was a man of great blindness, and was always ready to be lame. He was a man of great lameness, and was always ready to be crippled. He was a man of great crippledness, and was always ready to be dead.

was successfully cured by the mention of his name the crowd set up a deafening shout of applause, and the procession of fellows and his remarks were received with cheers.

On the 12th day of February, seventy-six years after the birth of Washington, and one hundred years after the birth of Abraham Lincoln, was born Ulysses Simpson Grant, the son of Jesse R. Grant, who was reared with his parents in Indiana, where he received a good common school education. In 1839 he removed to Illinois, and settled in Adams county, carrying on education. Under the guidance of his father, he was sent to West Point, where he graduated in 1843, standing twenty-first in a class of thirty-nine. He was then commissioned second lieutenant of the 4th U. S. Infantry, and served in the Mexican war, and was brevetted captain for gallant conduct in the battle of Molino del Rey. He was promoted to the full rank of captain in 1853, and resigned his commission in 1854. He then engaged in farming near St. Louis, Missouri, but was unsuccessful, and removed to Galena, Illinois, where he was employed in a leather store as a clerk by his brothers. He remained in this employment until the breaking out of the rebellion, when he was appointed colonel of the 21st Illinois regiment of volunteers. He was soon promoted to the command of a brigade, and then to the command of a division, and for his gallant conduct at the battle of Donelson was appointed major general of volunteers. He was then placed in command of the district of West Tennessee, with his headquarters at Corinth, Mississippi, and subsequently commanded the army of the Tennessee, which was composed of the armies of the Ohio, Cumberland and Tennessee, at the battle of Shiloh, where he was severely wounded. He was then appointed commander of the department of the Mississippi, and conducted the campaign against Vicksburg, which resulted in the capture of that city and the defeat of the rebel army under Pemberton. He was then appointed major general in the regular army, and commanded the armies of the United States in the field, with his headquarters with the army of the Potomac, during the campaign of 1864, which resulted in the capture of Richmond and the surrender of the rebel army under Lee. He was then appointed lieutenant general of the armies of the United States, and on the 4th of March, 1865, was inaugurated President of the United States. He was re-elected in 1868, and his second term will expire on the 4th of March, 1873.

General Grant was married to Miss Julia Dent, of St. Louis, Missouri, on the 22d day of August, 1848. They have had four children, three of whom are living—Frederick Dent, Ulysses Simpson, Jr., and Jesse Root Grant. The eldest son graduated at West Point in 1871, and is now a lieutenant in the army. The second son is a student at Harvard College, and the youngest is at school in Philadelphia.

General Grant is a man of medium height, and is rather stout. He has a large head, and is bald on the top. His hair is dark brown, and his eyes are blue. His features are regular, and his whole appearance is that of a man of great strength and activity. He is a man of great courage, and is not afraid to do what he thinks is right, regardless of consequences. He is a man of great kindness of heart, and is always ready to relieve the distressed. He is a man of great humility, and is never puffed up by success. He is a man of great patience, and is not easily provoked. He is a man of great temperance, and is not addicted to any vice. He is a man of great industry, and is always employed in some useful occupation. He is a man of great economy, and is careful of his means. He is a man of great generosity, and is liberal to the poor. He is a man of great piety, and is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Fields of Gettysburg. Since Washington spoke his farewell to the States, no man has come more kindly than Abraham Lincoln at his first inaugural. Then, in the midst of the terrible war, he declared that the struggle to be for the end of the original letter of the Constitution, and that the Union must be preserved. The Union was preserved, and was maintained by President Lincoln within a few months after the close of the war. Then, in the midst of the joy of victory, he was struck down by the hand of an assassin, and his life was taken away. Thus, in the midst of the greatest triumph of his life, and in the midst of the greatest joy of his country, he was called away from the scenes of earth, and from the people he loved so well, to the realms of the blessed. Then, indeed, was he "gathered to his fathers," and then, indeed, was he "numbered with the dead." Then, indeed, was he "laid to rest with the silent," and then, indeed, was he "mingled with the mighty." Then, indeed, was he "sleeping the sleep that knows no waking," and then, indeed, was he "dreaming dreams no mortal ever dreamed." Then, indeed, was he "waiting for the coming of the resurrection morning," and then, indeed, was he "waiting for the coming of the Lord." Then, indeed, was he "waiting for the coming of the Lord" to "make up his jewels," and then, indeed, was he "waiting for the coming of the Lord" to "make up his jewels" to "shine as the stars forever and ever."

LETTERS FROM PROMINENT PERSONS.
Hon. E. A. Becker, Corresponding Secretary, read the following letters from persons who promised to be present, in the following order:

ALAS! poor Sittig!

THE corpse should be removed before it becomes offensive.

MR. SITTIG is probably not the first man who has been killed by bad Cookery.

THE bray of the Decatur Jack sounds responsive to the wail of the Springfield fog-horn, as they sing in unison, "turn the rascals out."

THE British military movements in Afghanistan are reported to be greatly impeded by storms and floods, accompanied by severe cold weather.

FINANCIAL fever doesn't always kill, but when it does, the victim may as well be removed to the dead-house. He is only fit for dissecting or burial.

GEN. GRANT'S condition, yesterday, appears to have been materially improved. Ex Senator Chaffee pronounces him better than he had been for ten days previous.

WHEN an individual dies suddenly without apparent cause, it is usual to call in the Coroner. Mr. Sittig's case is evidently one that calls for the services of that useful functionary.

A CONSIDERABLE extra edition of this morning's JOURNAL, containing our very full report of yesterday's Lincoln memorial exercises, including all the speeches of the day, will be printed for the accommodation of those wishing to secure extra copies.

THE half-baked creatures who have been shouting, "turn the rascals out," merely betray their own conception of the possibilities of public office, as learned from the history of the last Democratic Administration. They simply mean, "let the rascals in."

IN the joint session, yesterday, Mr. Sittig, in order to avoid casting the vote for United States Senator demanded by his constituents, announced that he was paired with a dead man. There may be more truth in this than Mr. Sittig supposed. A dead man has no future in this world, at least, and a member paired with a dead man is likely to be "paired" permanently—to have no political future.

ENGLAND'S negotiations with Russia, after all her bluster, appear to be coming to a characteristic termination. Like Artemus Ward, England is ready to sacrifice all her relations for the sake of peace, so she proposes to cede Penjdeh to Russia, provided the Ameer consents—and these two powerful Governments operating together ought to be able to compel his consent. Meanwhile England doesn't propose to surrender any of her own territory.

YESTERDAY'S MEMORIAL EXERCISES.

It is now twenty years since Abraham Lincoln died at the hand of an assassin prompted to the murderous deed by the spirit of slavery, yet at the recurrence of each successive anniversary, the event has been cerebrated by thousands in various portions of the land with new and increasing interest and more imposing ceremonies. There has been nothing like it in American history at least. The memories of other great leaders have been honored by celebrating the anniversary of their birth; in the case of Lincoln alone, it has become the established custom to celebrate the anniversary of his death. The difference is doubtless due, not merely to the tragic character of his death, but the fact that it marked an era in the history of the country associated most intimately with the personal and political career of the man who has left his impress fixed indelibly upon that country and the welfare of millions of its inhabitants.

The celebration of yesterday was intended to surpass all its predecessors in its extent and impressiveness. That it would have done so but for the forbidding character of the weather, is demonstrated by the measure of success that was reached. As it was, there were thousands of strangers in the city, the depth of whose admiration for the memory of Abraham Lincoln was demonstrated by the fact that they braved the storm to participate in the proceedings. Under more favorable auspices the number in attendance would have been increased to five times as many.

The demonstration was a success, whether reference be had to it as evidence of the patriotism or the people or their love for the memory of the Nation's preserver. The speeches were brief, but eloquent; the music was touching and inspiring; the decorations were exquisite; the feeling of the participants was earnest and profound. It was a day long to be remembered by all who were present.

THE ESSENCE OF IT.

A closer analysis of the report of the Committee to investigate the pay-roll of the House employes, submitted Tuesday, notwithstanding the earnest efforts of its Chairman to secure economy and to lop off superfluous employes, shows some fine distinctions. For instance, Mr. E. L. Merritt and E. J. Pace are retained, while C. T. Heydecker and Mr. Moran are dismissed. If the necessity for the former exists, certainly the services of the latter are necessary. The former are Journal Clerks, employed last session, to prepare the copy for the daily edition of the House Journal. The latter are "proof readers," employed last session, to compare the proof of the daily edition with original journal and make corrections of errors therein, for the corrected edition. The daily journals have not been printed this session, but all these appointments were made by order of the House in anticipation that they would be printed. We are not discussing the merits of the question in any of its phases, for the House being Democratic, Democrats are entitled to the patronage and its responsibilities; but we desire simply to call attention to the inconsistency of the Report of the Committee in the respects here pointed out. The inference is plain that economy was not so much the ruling spirit, as that favorites should enjoy the benefits of place, whether their services were necessary or not.

PAUPER AND NON-PAUPER PATIENTS IN STATE INSTITUTIONS.

A sub-committee of the Senate Committee on State Institutions is investigating the question whether patients in the Insane Hospitals of this State, who are not paupers, are retained in the Institutions longer than those who are paupers. The great gravity of this inquiry is not apparent, but we assume that there must be some good reason for it, which we do not see. We may, however, be permitted to remark that the publication of the names of the patients, by order of the Senate, does not seem to have been necessary, since the Committee might equally well have examined the manuscript lists, and arrived at precisely the same conclusions. If not necessary, it can only have the effect of wounding the feelings of those who have friends in the hospitals. Such publication is, in some States, humanely prohibited by law.

But, not to insist upon this point, we wish to say that if, when the investigation is completed, it shall appear that, in special cases, patients who are not paupers have been retained in the hospital for a number of years, that fact, taken by itself, proves nothing, and will not necessarily reflect in the slightest degree upon the management of the hospital. The reasons for their retention may be such as will commend themselves to the public. The Superintendents can have no interest in the retention of patients, since the hospitals are free to all residents of the State, and there is no charge made against any for board or medical treatment. We have no doubt that, under our law, which assigns to each county its quota of patients in the hospital, persons of influence in the several counties, (the county officers, for instance, or even Senators and Representatives in the General Assembly, bring a strong pressure to bear upon the Superintendents in opposition to the discharge of certain patients. This is probably all the foundation there is for the implied charge contained in the resolution of investigation. When the County Clerk applies for the admission of a new patient, the Superintendent replies that the quota of the county is full; but if the Clerk will name the patient to be withdrawn, to create a vacancy, he will discharge him. The Clerk names a pauper. The county officers, and not the Superintendents, are the parties who are directly responsible; and the investigation is really directed against them. If the counties object to taking care of their pauper patients, the only remedy is for the State to make provision for the care of all the insane.

THE Democratic statesmen who gathered in Springfield, yesterday, to do honor to the memory of Abraham Lincoln (?) had quite a different estimate of th character of the Martyred President, twenty-one years ago, from that which they profess to entertain now. Then he was characterized as a "baboon," a "smutty joker," a "usurper," a "tyrant." They then demanded his expulsion from the Government in terms very similar to those which they now employ when shouting, "turn the rascals out," but even more malignant. Their professions of respect for the memory of the man whom they defamed up to the hour when a Democratic assassin was "inspired" to take his life, is a conspicuous confession of the fallibility of their judgment. Yet they will, no doubt, go on vilifying Republicans in the same style in which they were accustomed to defame Lincoln and Grant to the end of the chapter, forgetful of their self-stultification, and only remembering that now, as twenty years ago, there are certain offices which they are anxious to possess. And it was the partition of these that induced half a dozen Democratic Congressmen to come to Springfield, yesterday, under pretence of honoring the man who was made the object of more Democratic vituperation than any public man in the past hundred years.

CERTAINLY, by all means, the Illinois Legislature should adjourn sine die in order to allow the Hon. Eugene A. Sittig an opportunity to formally accept the Berlin consulship tendered him by Speaker Haines some months ago.—Chicago News.

A Tribute to Sittig.

Adapted from Shakspeare.

Alas! poor Sittig. I knew him, coquus; a fellow of infinite jest; of most excellent fancy; * * * and now how abhorred in my imagination it is! my gorge rises at it. * * * Where be your gibes now? your gambols? your songs? your flashes of merriment? Not one to mock your own grinning! Quite chop-fallen.

ALAS! POOR SITTIG.

A Chicago Kicker Goes Down Among the Dead Men—A Feeling Tribute to His Memory.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Eugene Sittig, a Republican from Cook county, died yesterday, at 12 o'clock, in the House of Representatives. He died from the fear that a soldier and an honest man would be elected to the United States Senate. The spasm was political neuralgia of the heart. His great desire for the accumulation, in kind, of something of a mysterious character unknown to others, except perhaps Mr. Cook, produced his death. It was a strange disease. The fact that Cook was employed to steer Sittig, and steering him against a glistening breaker, caused neuralgia to seize him and produced death. When we first heard of his death we thought it a false report, but as soon as we learned that he paired with Mr. Shaw, who died a few days ago, no further evidence is necessary, inasmuch as the dead can only be paired with the dead, and the living with the living. His pair with the dead is the pair of death. We understand a committee has been appointed to attend him to his grave, and see that he has proper funeral exercises. Good bye, kind Sittig! Farewell, beloved friend. We are sorry you are dead. The Democrats are glad.

AN IRISH RIOT.

Growing Out of the Visit of the Prince of Wales to Cork.

The Uncertain Status of the Angl Russian Affair:—Other Foreign News.

THE PRINCE.

HIS VISIT TO CORK AND A RIOT.

LONDON, April 15.—Up to this morning there was a feeling of relief in Government circles over the news from Cork, which all tended to show that the visit of the Prince of Wales to that city had passed off quietly, and had evoked an unexpected amount of enthusiasm. Early in the evening, Government officials declared that the attempt of the Nationalists to organize an opposition, had proved a failure, and that the extent of the Loyalists demonstration was surprising. These declarations were hardly uttered before the telegraph brought the reports of rioting in various parts of the city, and reports are becoming more alarming every hour. As an open carriage containing the Prince was crossing Parnell bridge, some one in the crowd threw and onion at His Royal Highness. The missile missed the Prince, but hit one of the footmen behind the carriage and the crowd cheered. During the afternoon a detective arrested a man who was throwing stones at the Loyalist procession. A mob speedily formed and attempted to rescue the prisoner. The detective fired his revolver, but without hitting any one, and succeeded in taking his prisoner to the police court where he was promptly released on bail furnished by the Mayor of Cork.

Early in the evening Nationalists held a mass meeting, where inflammatory speeches were made, and the latest London newspapers, containing accounts of the royal progress were burned in a bonfire. After the mass meeting the Nationalists scattered through the city in parties numbering from 50 to 500 men. Doors and windows were smashed, flags and decorations were torn down and heaped on blazing bonfires, and many gun stores broken into for the purpose of arming the mob. Policemen, when encountered singly or in small squads, were attacked and beaten unmercifully with their own truncheons. In many cases the police rallied and charged desperately on the mob, but they were invariably surrounded and repulsed. The police then resorted to the free use of their revolvers and bayonets. It was hand-to hand fighting of the most deperate sort, the police standing back to back and receiving and inflicting terrible injuries.

At midnight the streets were practically in the possession of the mob. The policemen who remained uninjured could not attempt to do more than maintain their positions and fight on the defensive. In addition to the attacks from the crowds in the streets, the police were exposed to murderous volleys of stones from windows, house-tops and other points of vantage. The belief at midnight was that the streets could not be cleared without the use of the artillery.

THE RIOT SUPPRESSED.

LONDON, April 16—4 a. m.—The rioting at Cork has been surpressed. Many arrests were made and the hospitals are full of wounded policemen and rioters.

AFGHANISTAN.

STORMS AND FLOODS.

LONDON, April 15—Military movements in Afghanistan are exceedingly difficult at present, on account of the unprecedented severity of the weather. There have been incessant storms of snow and hail on the mountains and rain in the valleys, which have swollen the rivers into floods, which are impassable by the means of transportation with which Gen. Lumsden's forces are supplied. The weather is exceptionally cold. This tells more on the British and Indian troops, who are from the South, than upon the Russians from the North.

RUSSIA DEMANDING EXPLANATIONS.

LONDON, April 15.—Gladstone's hesitation over the Kushk river affair has emboldened Russia, who is now taking her turn in demanding an explanation and withdrawals. The report is confirmed that De Giers has demanded an explanation of the presence of Capt. Yates, of Gen. Lumsden's staff, at the Kushk river battle, and the part he is said to have taken in provoking that engagement. Special dispatches from St. Petersburg assert that Russia has demanded the withdrawal of Lumsden himself, on the ground of his pronounced sympathy with the Afghans in hostility towards Russia, but this statement is doubtful. The Government is still wrangling with Turkey over the terms of the proposed Anglo-Turkish alliance.

A CABINET COUNCIL IN SESSION.

AT 2 P. M.—A Cabinet council is being held. Nothing is known as to the subject under discussion, but it is believed to be with reference to the Anglo-Russian difficulty.

VETERANS TO BE CALLED TO THE FRONT.

KINGSTON, April 15.—The imperial pensioners, on being paid to-day, were warned that, in the event of war between England and Russia, all under 60 years might be called upon to serve. The veterans received the news with much satisfaction.

RECRUITING THE NAVY.

LONDON, April 15.—Recruiting for the British navy continues with great activity. The Admirality have invited navy pensioners to volunteer.

AUSTRALIA TO TAKE A HAND.

Active preparations for war are making in all Australian colonies.

DUFFERING AT LAHORE.

LAHORE, India, April 15.—Earl Dufferin, the British Viceroy of India, arrived here to-day. He comes to confer with the Maharajah of Cashmere. The Viceroy was met by a great crowd and was accorded a splendid reception. In reply to to an address, he said, among other things: "Coming from an important interview with the Ameer of Afghanistan, whose dominions, so far as I have been able to ascertain, have been a scene of unprovoked attack. It is a great satisfaction to find that the princes and people of India are ready, with one accord, to rally around the standard of Great Britain. It is impossible to say how the present crisis will end. Its end in war will be in spite of the earnest and anxious endeavor of the British Government to avoid so dire a result, and in defiance of their most moderate and conciliatory conduct."

ON A TOUR OF INSPECTION.

TIFLIS, April 15.—Gen. Prince Dondouskoff Korssakoff, Commander-in-Chief of the Caucasus, has gone by way of Baku to make a tour of military inspection through the Province in Dakgestan.

RESULT OF THE CABINET COUNCIL.

LONDON, April 15.—In the Cabinet Council, to-day, the Anglo-Russian difficulty, it is said, was represented to be as follows: England and Russia have agreed upon a basis for delimitation of the Afghan frontier, subject to the satisfactory explanation by Russia of the recent attack on the Afghans. According to this scheme, it is said, Penjdeh will be ceded to Russia, providing the Ameer consents.

AN ALLIANCE.

LONDON, April 15.—The rebound of stocks is chiefly due to the prevalent belief that England is about to conclude an alliance with Turkey, which it is thought will prove an effectual damper to Russian arrogance. This belief is based, however, on mere surmise.

AWAITING INFORMATION.

The departure of the dragoons from Brighton for India, which was fixed for to-day, has been postponed during the issue of the negotiations between England and Russia. It is believed in British official circles that there is no material change in the Afghan situation. Reliable information with reference to the dispute is not expected for some days yet.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

BETTER FEELING IN THE STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, April 15, 10:30 A. M.—There is better feeling in the local market this morning, and consols opened at 95⅝ and advanced to 95½. Foreign funds are firm. Russian securities 83¾.

Later, consols declined to 95⅜@95½ over last night's close. Russian securities advanced to 84.

FRANCE TO REMAIN NEUTRAL.

PARIS, April 24.—LaPaix says that in the event of war between England and Russia, other powers, especially France, must remain neutral. LaPaix hints that such agreement already exists.

NO HITCH IN PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

PARIS, April 15.—The Government officially denies that there is any truth in the story that there is a serious hitch in the peace negotiations between France and China.

A DOUBTFUL REPORT.

SUAKIM, April 25.—It is reported that Osman Digna, with but a few followers, has retired to Erkout.

AN INSANE DEMON.

The Terrible Outcome of a German Laborer's Lovemaking.

UTICA, N. Y., April 15—George H. Humpf a section hand on the New York Central, killed his wife and four-day-old child near Indian Castle church, Herkemer county, Monday and then committed suicide. He had been insane for several weeks and a watch had been placed over his actions. While in Germany he was betrothed to a widow with one child, and after coming here sent for them. On the arrival of his affianced, he discovered she had, in the meantime, had small-pox, and was badly pitted. This overcame his affection and he refused to marry her, but endeavored to compromise by marrying the daughter instead, which proposition the latter rejected. Subsequently Humpf went to Germany where he married his late wife. His former love and daughter still live in the vicinity, and on Humpf's return with his bride, a fellow workman began to harass him with allusions to the widow. This was continued and so preyed on his mind as to induce insanity. He grew worse after the birth of his child, and he was to have been removed to an asylum yesterday.

Monday afternoon, a neighbor who was acting as guard, heard screams in the house and saw a peculiar flash of fire, and in company with another man he broke into the house. The building was filled with a sulphurous odor which was stifling, but the men succeeded in making their way to Mrs. Humpf's bedroom, where they found the woman and child dying in great agony. They had been saturated with kerosene and fired, and both the victims were horribly burned. Both of the baby's eyes were burned out and the body shockingly burned, as was the body of the mother. The murderer had stabbed the child in four places and cut the mother's throat. The infant lived but a short time. Mrs. Humpf survived until 11 yesterday morning. Search was made for Humpf and he was traced by blood marks to a room, through the ceiling of which he had knocked a hole with a 6x8, and was found perched on the joists with a shovel in his hands to defend himself with. A wire was thrown over his leg by which he was hauled down. He died soon afterward from loss of blood, having cut his own throat.

CHICAGO, April 15—A telegram received here to-day announcing the death of Col. Robert Forsythe, traffic manager of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad, at Savannah, Ga, to-day.

A Business Conference.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., April 15.—The business session of the presiding elders of the M. E. Church of the Northwest opened here this morning, with a large attendance. W. Frank Paxton, of Upper Iowa Conference, was elected secretary. A feature of the discussion to-day was the possibility of the church at large raising $1,000,000 for missions this year.

New York Liquor Legislation.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 15.—At the caucus of the Assembly to-day it was decided to appoint two members from each Legislative District, one Democrat and one Republican, to act as a committee to draft an excise law, which will be acceptable to both the people and the liquor interest.

Accidental Drowning.

FORTRESS MONROE, Va., April 15—Several ladies, among them Mrs. Reynoids, started in a boat this afternoon to visit Old Point, with a couple of negroes as oarsmen. The water was rough, the wind high, and the boat upset. All were rescued, but Mrs. Reynolds died from exhaustion.

THE TRUNK TRAGEDY.

Maxwell Escapes from the Country—More Information About Him.

ALLEGED DEVELOPMENTS.

ST. LOUIS, April 15.—A San Francisco special says: "On receipt of a telegram from Chief of Police Harrigan, of St. Louis, the police here commenced search for Maxwell, the alleged murderer of Preller. The investigation developed the fact that a man answering to Maxwell's description, arrived here Saturday last, and put up at the Palace Hotel. He only stayed there one night, and it is believed he sailed in the steamer City of Sydney for Hawaii and Australia, which left here the next afternoon." Later developments, however, incline the reporters to the belief that the police are on the trail, and that an arrest can be looked for at any time.

It transpired here to-day that Maxwell, two or three days before the murder, was in great need of money and that he attempted to pawn his watch and sell a steropticon apparatus and views. On the Monday following, before he left the city, he was known to have money, as he informed persons to whom he had tried to sell those articles that he no longer needed money and displayed plenty of cash. He also purchased several things, including a valuable field glass and a pair of spectacles.

THE DOCTOR'S RAILROAD TICKET.

Walter Lennox-Maxwell, the supposed Southern Hotel murderer, purchased an unlimited ticket to San Francisco on Monday morning, April 6. He signed his name to the ticket before leaving. He left the same evening on the San Francisco Railroad, and was recognized on the train by two St. Louisians, who talked with him and saw him as far as Pierce City, Mo

NEWS COMING FROM THE EAST.

BOSTON, April 15.—A. M. Powers, who knew Maxwell, the supposed murderer of C. A. Preller, while in this city, says he has a letter in his possession which was mailed by Maxwell from St Louis at 6 p. m. April 6. It was learned to-day that, prior to his departure, Maxwell pawned his watch and a person in Boston now holds the ticket. When Preller left Boston, it was understood that he and Maxwell were to meet at the Southern Hotel in St. Louis, and the date on which they were to be there was fixed upon. After Preller's departure, they corresponded and their letters were of a friendly nature. Maxwell was an inveterate smoker and drinker, but was seldom under the influence of liquor. The story that he was under the influence of liquor when he left Boston, is not true. When Maxwell went away he said he was going to St. Louis and shoule remain there until after he had received money from England, when he should go with Preller to San Francisco. Maxwell was an intense hater of dynamiters, and I have heard him say, said a friend, that the whole crew ought to die. Preller, on the other hand, was somewhat in league with the dynamiters, as I gathered from his conversation. He thought it was a huge joke because the houses of Parliement and the Tower of London had been blown up by the dynamiters and there was quite a little tilt between them over this outrage, which occurred about the time they were here in Boston. Preller did not look like an Englishman. He looked tame and more like a Jew. He had a Jewish nose.

MAXWELL SKIPPED OUT.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—It was vaguely rumored this morning that Lennox-Maxwell, who murdered Arthur Preller at St. Louis, April 6, had arrived in this city. The fact was confirmed to-nigh by Chief Detective L. W. Lee, who hunted up the whole matter from the time of Lennox's departure from St. Louis to his arrival here. Lennox purchased a ticket at St. Louis, signing the name of Hugh M. Brooks. When he reached this city he registered at the Palace Hotel as T. C. D. Auguier. He claimed to be a French army officer. When spoken to in French, he replied in English. Sunday last he purchased a steerage ticket by the steamer City of Sydney for Auckland, New Zealand, signing the name of D. Auguier. Cables will be sent to New Zealand, Australia, for his arrest, and a letter was sent by the steamer Alameda, to-day, to Honolulu, in case of his stopping there. The police think the man will change his course an Honolulu, taking a sailing ship to China or Japan, and that the traces will be lost.

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

THE NEW TRAFFIC PLAN.

CHICAGO April 15.—The general committee appointed by the managers of the Eastern and Western Trunk Lines to prepare and submit a plan for a new Traffic Association, including those lines, sent in their report to the printer this afternoon. It will be laid before the general managers to-morrow. It recommends the adoption of a plan similar to that in use by the Southwestern Traffic Association; the organization to be called the Central Traffic Association. In the meeting, to-day, several members urged the speedy determination upon a plan to go in effect May 1.

To Reduce the Production.

FALL RIVER, Mass., April 15.—At a meeting of manufacturers, this afternoon, it was voted that the production of print cloths be curtailed by a four-week's stoppage of the mills between now and July, each mill to use its own discretion about the method of effecting the reduction, the only obligation being that the amount of stoppage between this date and July I shall equal four weeks. This reduction is taken in conjunction with a simultaneous movement on the part of the Rhode Island mills, and will reduce the stock of print cloths 800,000 pieces.

THE SUFFERING HERO.

A Marked Improvement in, and General Statement of Grant's Condition.

CHEERFUL AND CHATTY.

NEW YORK April 10.—Gen. Grant enjoyed a refreshing sleep of eight and a-half hours. Pulse 76, of fair volume. Temperature normal. He is inclined to be cheerful and chatty, and at present no pain in the throat, nor has he suffered from any during the night.

BETTER THAN FOR TEN DAYS.

Senator Chaffee was the first visitor at Gen. Grant's house this morning. When he left he said that only six minims of morphia had been used in twenty-four hours. The General's condition was better than it had been for ten days, and the Senator had no immediate apprehensions.

NOT GAINING STRENGTH.

Mrs. Jesse Grant this morning stated that the General was easier, but was not gaining strength—just about holding his own. She did not see any very great change from the last few days. The matter of his removal, if he survived until fine weather, is not definitely settled.

THE DAILY CONSULTATION.

At the consultation visit at 2 p. m. Gen. Grant was found to be in an improved condition.

A TALK WITH SHRADY.

When Dr. Shrady left Gen. Grant's house after the consultation to-day, he said, in answer to a question, that the general condition the patient was improved.

"How do you account for this steady improvement?" was asked.

"The General's bad attacks have been caused by complications associated with the usual progress of the disease," was the answer. "They have been overcome, for the present, and, of course, he is better. The temporary irritation in the throat has been relieved and the result is what the bulletins have stated."

"And do the bulletins state everything?" was asked.

"The bulletins deal with the plain facts of the case and with the facts only," responded Dr. Shrady.

AN APT ILLUSTRATION.

During the consultation this afternoon, Gen. Grant said to his physicians: "The doctors, I am informed, are writing about my case and talking about it, and some of them seem to think they know more about it than you gentlemen do; but it is like a time of war, when men at home think they know more about it, and how to do it than the generals who are in the field fighting."

THE BARE FACTS OF THE CASE.

Soon after his throat was dressed this morning, Gen. Grant said, in remarking upon his improved condition, that he thought he would get well. That the public may be enabled thoroughly to understand the case as it is, and from a reliable opinion, the following absolute facts are given as a basis for public and personal judgment. Gen. Grant is not greatly emaciated about the body. He has lost some flesh, but how much cannot be told as he has not been weighed in some time. His face is not much changed, but it has a careworn appearance. The gland is swollen on the right side and the swelling on the outside varies more or less, as there is more or less swelling on the inside. The glandular swelling has at no time, been larger than a hens egg, and from that down to the size of a pigeon's egg. It is located at the angle of the right jaw. It has never entirely disappeared since it came, months ago. The swelling is due first, to an irritating growth, and finally to the progress of the disease in the glands themselves. There is no positive evidence at present that the glands have become actively diseased, although the presumption is that they are diseased. The disease does not extend to, nor effect, any of the processes of the General's ear. There is some danger of that possibility, but not a probability at present. It is not going in that direction. The disease is spreading gradually backwards into the back part of the throat and behind the palate. It has communicated somewhat to the back part of the nose, in front and above the palate. There is no lump on the tongue. It is an ulcer. Away back on the side of the tongue is a small ulcer. It has never been shown to its whole extent, but it is a small ulcer, triangular in shape, and from a quarter to half an inch in diameter. In cases of epithelioma there is no lump. It is an ulcer. There is a discharge from the ulcerated surface, composed of mucus, broken down tissue and some little matter, in other words, it is muco-pus. This exudes from an ulcerated surface that includes the palate, the back part of the throat and the right side of the tongue. There is a chance for general improvement by temporary arrest of the disease. The atmosphere, the mountains or the west would, with fair weather, be better for the General than the salt air of the seaboard. In all cancerous cases in the throat there are complications of irritation about the throat which might be called accidents of the disease, and it is these complications that have given the trouble rather than the steady progress of the disease. In this case these complications are swelling of the throat increase of the inflammation, spasms of hemorrhage and increased flow of mucus. Six drops, or minims, of morphia are given each 24 hours, just enough to control the pain and induce sleep. Without the morphia, the pain would at times be unbearable.

The General takes for food from one to two tumblerfuls of a mixture of beef extract and egg and milk, every two to four hours, night and day. He relished a little clam broth yesterday, as much as he relishes anything. The General usually reclines in his chair, attired in knitted underwear, on his feet knitted wool moccasons, a dark dressing gown trimmed with silk and belted with a heavy cord. Over his lap is spread a silk and satin quilt filled with down, while on his head he wears a silk cap which he has long worn to protect his head from attacks of neuralgia. Dr. Douglas will remain with the General to-night and a consultation will be held at 2 p. m. to-morrow.

RESOLUTIONS BY OLD COMRADES.

CHICAGO, April 15.—The military order of the Loyal Legion, in congress here to-day, adopted a resolution offered by Gen. C. F. Manderson, extending to its companion, U. S. Grant, its hearty sympathy and expressing the hope that speedy restoration to health may be afforded him, and that his life may be spared many years to the Republic whose existence his eminent services did so much to secure. In the absence of Gen. W. S. Hancock, Gen. R. B. Hayes, of Ohio, was made temporary presiding officer. The congress will resume its session to-morrow morning. It was tendered a banquet this evening by Gen. George W. Smith, at his residence in this city.

Carter Harrison Aping Haines.

CHICAGO, April 15.—An evening paper professing to speak for Mayor Harrison, declares the latter expects to be shown as having been elected Mayor on the counting of the ballots, and that after the announcement is made, he will resign the office. The reason assigned is that he does not care to be subjected to expensive litigation.

Miss Willard's Denial.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Miss Francis G. Willard has written to the Associate Press denying that she ever sent a communication to the Hillsboro Presbytery, assuming that she had received a Divine revelation. She disavows having addressed that association in any way whatever.

Work and Wages.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Adams & Westlake Manufacturing Company has shut down its works, throwing 350 men out of employment. The employes contend that the shut-down was ordered with a view to re-engaging a force at reduced wages.

AN ACTOR OF EXPERIENCE

Gives His Views of the Profession—Stage Fright—Social Life—Salaries.

[New York Graphic Interview.]

"I may be very conservative in my notions as to how a man or woman should enter the profession; but in spite of schools, lessons or coaching it is the same opinion with experienced actors that a beginner must begin on the stage itself, with all its surroundings as they are—at the bottom of the ladder. There have been of course some exceptional cases, but they are indeed very rare. Why, my dear sir, I could name some actors who are on the stage now who had neither money nor time to waste, thus began the profession by going on as supers, for by this means they got used to facing an audience, and could see the curious methods adopted by old stagers."

"What is the feeling a man experiences when he first speaks before an audience?"

"Were you ever seasick? Well, if you remember that sensation, just before you are absolutely ill, you may form some idea of the fear that comes over the average actor on his first appearance before any audience. There's the same cold perspiration, the mist before the sight, the same parched lips and tongue, the sinking feeling in the breast and palpitating heart. Some of course suffer more than others. It is called stage fright, and there's many a man and woman that could not go through the same ordeal a second time. It's all very well for a young man to recite before his friends or play at any amateur entertainment; but when he comes before a large assembly of people who have paid their admission fee to be entertained, with all the glare, glitter and bustle of genuine show life around him, it's a vastly different matter. What may appear strange to you is this—that a man, as a rule, plays better when he is slightly nervous—not about the audience, but his lines. It is perhaps better explained by anxiety as to whether he is correct, and the very doubt he has about it throws a degree of fire into his acting."

"What about the actor's social life?" asked the journalist.

"Well, save those few engaged at the houses that have a stock company, they have no social comfort, or at least during the season. The majority of Thespians sign for it. They go from railroad car to hotel, from hotel to theatre, and so on. You cannot form any conception of how a man or woman feels when they arrive in some town at say 5 in the afternoon. This is barely time to bolt some supper when they have to hurry off to the theatre—perhaps a strange one to them—dress and go on. Then perhaps the train takes them away to the next stand at midnight, to say nothing of wintry weather. The only time they get is on Sunday, if they happen to be staying in town on that day; then the want of a home is impressed upon their minds."

"But they receive good pay during the season," suggested the reporter.

"That's another exaggerated idea," avowed the actor, with a grave shake of his head. "In the first place actors do not in very many cases receive the salaries put down to them by many newspapers and general gossip. Then you must bear in mind that half the year they are idle. There is always something to buy for every piece or something to replace. For instance, if an actor is playing in a piece that requires every day clothing nothing is found by the managers, and if it's a fancy dress piece there are tights, feathers, shoes, wigs, and other things he has to find, or if you have to travel there are dozens of ways for the money to go, the details of which cannot always be accounted for. Yet for all it is a mistake to suppose that actors are a very improvident class. A great number have money, and there is a very good plan they now adopt to place their earnings in safe keeping while on their travels—that is, on 'treasury day,' after keeping what they might need for running expenses, they get a post order for the balance payable to themselves, if they have no family, in New York city, or any other place they may think of making for when the season is over."

Grant's Consideration for the Vanquished.

["Carp" in Cleveland Leader.]

One of the very marked features of Gen. Grant's life in the field was that no one ever came to his quarters on legitimate business or was brought there a prisoner who was not kindly and considerately treated. He was punctilious in having all persons who came properly to his quarters politely treated and cared for. He never gave offense himself, and would not tolerate it in others. No officer in the army ever lived more plainly than Gen. Grant, and none was more willing to divide what he had. After a successful battle he never exhibited the slightest boastful feeling. To have seen him and heard him talk one would suppose he had nothing to do with the battle if it were not for the orders he was dictating for the future movements of the army or for the burial of the dead or for the caring for the sick and wounded.

HONOR TO LINCOLN.

have been very artistic. At the front or south face of the monument stood two rough obelisks, draped in mourning and entwined with evergreen. Shortly after 3 o'clock the floats or wagons bearing the beautiful floral offerings entered the south gate of the cemetery and proceeded to the monument, where the flowers were received by a committee consisting of the following ladies: Mrs. John A. Nafew, Mrs. M. J. Stadden, Mrs. E. R. Roberts, Mrs. E. L. Higgins, Mrs. A. E. Bentley, and Misses Josephine Cleveland, Mamie Nafew and Blanche Bentley. A more competent committee could scarcely have been selected. The offerings were distributed about the catacomb and strewn over the sarcophagus with beautiful effect, the back ground of the many handsome upright pieces being the majestic and stately palms brought from Lincoln Park, Chicago, by Mrs. Roby. The visitors crowded against the iron bars to gain admittance to the catacomb, but this was impracticable and they were obliged to content themselves with viewing the beautiful display through the gratings.

THE OAKEN TABLET.

A few days ago THE JOURNAL gave a description of the memorial tablet of oak prepared by the North American Turner Bund, for the memorial services of the day and to be donated for all future occasions of a like nature. The tablet was brought here yesterday in charge of the Veteran Turners of St. Louis, and dedicated to the purpose for which it was designed in the following appropriate little speech by John Toensfeldt, of St. Louis, President of the North American Turner Bund:

When patriotism was put to the test, when the welfare and preservation of our country called for a sacrifice, be it of wealth or of life, then it was that the members of the Union, which is called Tuernerbund, and in whose name I am to dedicate this memorial, were ready to answer the country's call. Of their ranks many did not return. They died for the same cause for which their beloved leader, whose memory we are celebrating to-day, was called away. It is a laudable idea of the survivors to set a token of their love and reverence for him in whom so great principles were personified, to remind the young who grow up in a time that seems comparatively here of high patriotism and great deeds,—who loved their country more than their lives, and that such men are examples to be followed by the rising generations. From the boundaries of Canada to the Gulf, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, tokens of love and admiration of our martyr President have been sent by all the districts of our Union, laurel wreaths to crown the memory of the dead hero, and to testify our firmer adherence to the principles that formed his life's struggle. The oak, with its heart, is an emblem of strength and perpetuity. May the cause for which Lincoln stood, struggled and died, be as strong as the oak of all times."

The tablet was taken in charge here and will be kept at Memorial Hall at the monument, as a memento of the day, and to be seen by the thousands who visit there.

Grand Lodge Knights of Honor.

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Honor held in this city during the last two days, the following officers were elected: Grand Dictator, H. M. Gilmore, Delavan; Grand Vice Dictator, A. B. Minor, Effingham: Assistant Grand Dictator, Wheeler Bartram, Chicago; Grand Guide, Henry Gesaway, Martinsville; Grand Reporter, Le Roy Wiley, Harris; Grand Treasurer, N. C. Nason, Peoria; Grand Guardian, George Gilbertson, Chicago; Grand Trustees, H. F. Day of Moaweqna, C. H. Petten of Mt. Vernon, R. P. Shackleford of Jerseyville; Supreme Representative, R. J. Stevens, Murphysboro. Walter Mason, M. D., of Mt. Vernon, was recomended as State medical examiner.

Several constitutional amendments were passed, among them one reducing mileage from 5 to 4 cents. The standing committees were reduced from eight to five in number, and are to consist of three members each; the other committees are to be appointed by the Grand Dictator at the opening of each session from the representatives present. The capitation tax is to remain unchanged. The adjournment was to the first Tuesday in September, 1886, giving the officers-elect 18 months tenure of office.

Silver Wedding.

Presiding Elder, Rev. P. C. Cooper, of the A. M. E. Church, of this city, and his estimable wife, having arrived at the 25th mile stone of their married life, their friends thought it proper to celebrate the occasion by remembering them in a substantial manner. Mrs. Ed. Jackson and Miss Nannie Brown, assisted by the following friends, presented them with a handsome silver tea set, last evening: The following were the presenters: Mr. and Mrs. E. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. H. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs J. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. C. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. H. Vantreece, Mr. and Mrs. P. Smith, Miss Nannie Brown, Misses Alice and Ema Dulf, Frank and Chas. Resolutions of Sympathy for Grant.

Stephenson Post G. A. R. adopted resolutions last evening expressing sympathy for Gen. U. S. Grant as follows:

1. That our hearts are pained beyond measure at the sickness and suffering endured by our old Comrade; that we bear toward him the most affectionate regard and tender sympathy; that words fail to express our sorrowful regrets at the news brought to us from those watching at his bedside, that his days on Earth must necessarily be few and painful; that our admiration for the heroism exhibited on his dying bed is only equaled by our admiration for his bravery on the field of battle. When the last sad hour shall come, may the God of battles, and the Angel of peace watch over and guard him in the World to come as they have watched over and cared for him in the World he is leaving.

2. We tender to the family of Gen. Grant the fraternal sympathy due from one Comrade to another in time of distress, and hope, though hope may be vain, that the husband and father may yet, long be spared to them.

The Commander of the Post was directed to forward a copy of the above to the address of Col. Fred Grant.

Poison at the the Front Door.

No article entering so generally into the food of every family has been found more villainously adulterated than baking powder. For the purpose of underselling those powders of absolute purity and wholesomeness which alone are safe for use in food, hundreds of dealers are putting up baking powders with cheap and adulterated cream of tartar, which contains lime, earth, etc., adding strength by the free use of alum.

These adulterated powders are "shoved" upon the public with the greatest persistency. They are first given away—left in samples at private residences, with circulars containing bogus analyses and certificates, and false representations as to their value etc. This fact of itself is sufficient to condemn them. A first-class article will sell upon its merits. No manufacturer whose goods are of value can afford to give them away, and none but the cheapest make and most inferior or unmarketable goods require to be distributed free in order to get the public to use them, and this method is adopted only by parties who have failed to dispose of their wares through the ordinary and legitimate channels of trade.

Free samples of articles of food left at the house should be regarded with suspicion. There is no guarantee of their wholesomeness, while there is real danger that they contain a fatally poisonous compound. Many instances of poisoning from the use of such samples are recorded.

The only safe way is to consign all such samples immediately to the ash barrel, and to turn a deaf ear to the statements made by their venders. It is not worth while to trifle with life and health to the extent of testing every doubtful baking powder that comes along. Better to rely upon an old and reliable brand, like the Royal, which has by a quarter of a century's constant use proved its perfect wholesomeness and efficiency, or some other brand that is not so worthless and cheap that its proprietors can afford to give it away by the cart-load. It is in its favor that the Royal Baking Powder is never given away, sold by means of lotteries, nor accompanied by chromos, spoons, chrockery, or other gifts, except the gifts of absolute purity, wholesomeness, full weight, and superlative leavening power. Its own merits have been its chief advertisement, and they have secured for it the constant patronage of the American people to an extent beyond the combined sale of all other baking powders. The Royal Baking Powder is certified by all the Government chemists as absolutely pure and perfect.

We have received some very interesting photographic views from the private life of Gen. Grant—glimpses of him in his home circle and surroundings—made by the well-known New York photographers, Pach Bros., at Long Branch, during the ex-President's sojourn at the seashore. These views will prove of general value to every citizen of the Union; no one should fail to procure a copy of them who honors and respects one of the greatest men of his time.

Advice to Mothers

Are you disturbed at nights and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentry and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflamation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the perscription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and it is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Catarrh.

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease. liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acting through the blood reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. TO THE PUBLIC.

NATIONAL LINCOLN MONUMENT.

The taking and selling of pictures of the Lincoln Monument, and everything pertaining to it, has from the time it was opened to the public, more than ten years ago, been regarded by the National Lincoln Monument Association, as a part of the legitimate means of taking care of the Monument and grounds. The Association is organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, and consequently has the legal right to say who shall and, who shall not take, views of the property under its control. In order to prevent the taking and selling of pictures by unauthorized persons, a paper duly executed and now in full force, was placed in the hands of the undersigned, and of which the following is a true copy:

Mr. J. C. Power—Sir.—From and after Monday, April 24, 1882, you will please control the taking of photographic views of the Lincoln Monument until further orders of the Association or its Executive Committee.

JOHN T. STUART,
JOHN WILLIAMS,
JAMES C. CONKLING,
April 18, 1882. Executive Committee.

Under the authority vested in me by that paper, I entered into a written contract with Mr. J. A. W. Pittman, that he alone should take all views of, and pertaining to, the Lincoln Monument—except by special agreement. Mr. Pittman will take all views that are thought to be desirable of the monument and decorations, in connection with the present memorial observance. They will be sold at the Monument or sent by mail, the same as the twenty or more kinds I have already in stock, at the uniform price of 25 cents each, for cabinet and stereoscopic views. Larger sizes special rates. One-third of the gross amount of sales of views with the decorations—nearly the entire profits—will be placed in the hands of the Treasurer of the Lincoln Guard of Honor, to aid in defraying the expense of any future memorial services. Address, with the amount you wish to invest,

J. C. POWER.

Metal Poison.

I am a copper mith by trade, and during a serie of years my arms (being bare when at work) have absorbed a wonderful amount of metal poison. Having a scrofulous tendency from my youth, the small particles of copper and brass would get into the sores, and by this process the poison was conveyed into my blood till my whole system became infected. I was treated with the old remedies of mercury and iodide potassium. Salivation followed, my teeth are all loose in my head, my digestive organs deranged, and I have been helpless in bed for over a year with mercurial rheumatism. My joints were all swollen and I lost the use of my arms and legs, and became helpless as an infant.

My sufferings became so intense that it was impossible for me to rest. The doctors advised me ty go to the city hospital for treatment. This I could not bear. A friend, who has proved a friend indeed, urged me to try Swift's Specific, believing it would cure me. Others discouraged me, but I secured a few bottles. and have now taken two dozen bottles. The first effect of the medicine was to bring the poison to the surface, and I broke out all over in running sores. They soon disappeared, and my skin cleared off. My knees, which had become twice their natural size, have resumed their usual size and are supple as of yore. My arms and hands are all right again. and can use them without pain. The entire disease has left all parts of the body save two ulcers on my wrists, which are healing rapidly. I am weak from long confinement, but I have the use of all my limbs. This medicine is bringing me out of the greatest trial of my life, and I cannot find words sufficient to express my appreciation of its virtues, and the gratitude I feel that I ever heard of it. PETER E. LOVE, Augusta, Ga.

Malarial Poison.

The drouth in southwest Georgia last spring dried up the wells and we were compelled to use water from the creek on the plantation. The result was that all were troubled with chills and fever. I carried with me several bottles of Swift's Specific, and as long as I took it I had perfect health. As soon as I ceased taking it, I, like the rest, was afflicted with chills. When I resumed its use, I was all right again. We have used it in our family as an antidote for malaria poison for two or three years, and have never known it to fail in a single instance.

COOKING BY GAS!

The Best and Cheapest of All Ways of Good Cooking.

Being confident that all users of the GOOD COOKING in Springfield must soon be done by Gas, we have made such changes in our office arrangements to go exclusively into the GAS STOVE business, and have on hand a full line of the best Gas Stoves made, and will sell them as low as the cost of material ever increased.

We will call and receive and set prices at Residences.

We Have a Full Stock Now on Hand, which we will be pleased to have examined by all housekeepers, at our sales-rooms. Bring back your old stoves and have them repaired, as we have a full line of repairs for all stoves, and a department of the store, which is much more simple than the old way of doing business.

Remember we have the best and cheapest GAS STOVES of all sizes, from $6 to $50 each—the best stoves made, and we will guarantee them to be the most efficient ever introduced.

Yours truly,

BELWIG & SNAPE,

Gas and Steam-Fitters, 414 and 416 Monroe St.

NEW YORK MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 15.—Money was easy at 1 per cent, closing at 1; prime mercantile paper at 4@5. Sterling exchange bids only slightly at $4 83 and $4 87½.

Government gold unchanged with the exception of an advance of ¼ per cent. in Fours.

To-day's stock market has been a scene of buoyant overtures. Response was never this morning so instantaneous in indicating a more general position and prices at the opening were from ½ to ¾ per cent. above the close of yesterday, and as early dealers further transferred declines were made. It was also noticed that within the 10 minutes by a reaction and from that time until the close of the board the upward movement was substantially active as compared with the business of the week. Values advanced from ¼@1 per cent., closing on sliding reaction at the last point being the top price. Sales to-day in excess of the entire dealings on any one day since last quotations of the day.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Brother Stitle Pairs With a Dead Man and Plays a New Dodge.

The Business of the Day in Both Houses, and Notes on the Situation.

THE SITUATION.

WILL VOTE TO-DAY.

Much indignation was expressed yesterday, by the Republicans, over Lieutenant Governor Gill's action in voting, while the Democrats are correspondingly hilarious and declare their intention to vote for United States Senator as soon as they get all their men here. Mr. Pearce claimed that Gill would have no right now to elect Morrison, as they can find no example of Republicans to vote when they were wanted. He claimed that Senator Bayer, who was absent Wednesday, would not again vote with the Republicans in joint convention, but expects certain Mr. Merritt does not agree with the statement which was read.

The Republicans expect to have all their men here to-day, and to-morrow will count 101 votes for United States Senator.

JOINT ASSEMBLY.

ROPES BLASTED.

When it was found that all the Republican members of the General Assembly were present yesterday excepting Senator Bayer, it was given out that there would be a full vote for Logan from the Republicans, but after the calling of the roll in the joint session, Mr. Stitle again came to the front with the following astonishing statement which was read:

WHEREAS, This joint assembly upon a party vote, stands equally divided, and after a full vote on each of the absent members, been prevented from proceeding to the election of a United States Senator, and

WHEREAS, By the recent death of Hon. Henry Ropes, each full vote is again prevented, and

WHEREAS, The contest is now one of account of said death, and the people are becoming weary of the struggle, therefore, I Eugene A. Stitle, hereby pledge myself to stand paired with said deceased member upon all votes and questions relating to the election of United States Senator until his successor is elected and qualified, and I call upon my colleagues to do likewise in this joint assembly.

Which being reading was concluded the Democrats cheered loudly, and Republicans looked sour. Then on the call of the roll for a vote for United States Senator, Stitle cast Ropes, Rep., for Palmer, and voted for Logan.

All adjourned.

THE STEERING COMMITTEE.

CENSURED BY MEMBERS.

WHEREAS, It appears, on the daily papers that the Republican Senatorial steering committee have been in secret sessions condemning the constant absence of Senator Bayer from the Senate, and by resolution publicly censured him, and

WHEREAS, The undersigned Republican members of the Senate have on several occasions, been prevented from voting for a United States Senator, Senator Bayer, and

WHEREAS, Nothing is known to the undersigned why the absence of Senator Bayer from the Senate is more censurable than the absence of several members, some absent sick and others absent on business, therefore, be it

Resolved, As the sense of the undersigned, in caucus, that the committee is a senseless and unnecessary one, and that its usefulness is ended, that it is the unanimous desire of every member of said committee to be relieved from further duty and until and including Friday of each day hereafter the committee shall be discharged.

Signed

Ben Nowers, Jr., Walter C. Headen, A. G. Goodspeed, H. A. Parker, D. A. Knowlton, Wm. Bross, Jr., Wm. Lorimer, Wm. Ray Sayler, Chas. A. Allen, Jas. H. Miller, Sayler, Chas. A. Allen, Jas. H. Miller, Sayler, Chas. A. Allen, Jas. H. Miller, Sayler, Chas. A. Allen, Jas. Hamilton, Wm. J. Orendorff, H. Stitle, Secretary, (Laughter.)

THAT CONFERENCE.

ALL AFTER THE SPOILS.

Among the other patriotic visitors here yesterday there came all the Democratic state committee, and Governor Hamilton, Lawler and Townsend. They have no business with the Democratic members, Mr. Morrison, in which the subject of the spoils was pretty thoroughly canvassed. They are so many Mormons and have relative to the result, but it is pretty well understood that the object of the visit is to go in, early on, and get their take all in cash get. There, is a report that the democratic committee has been instructed to some of the Illinois appointments, and that the committee is fully contemplated resigning, but he would not be pretty if he did, for then they would just stick where they are.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

THE HOUSE—SENATE—TWENTY-SIX DAY.

Senate.—The journal of yesterday was read and approved, when Mr. McDonald offered a resolution that the Governor's emergency bill until April 25, but objections were made to its consideration and Mr. Fuller called up the special order, which was the motion of Mr. Stitt, to reconsider the vote by which the bill was reported favorably on by the State Dairymen's Association in regard to their relief bill was taken up.

Messrs. Lonegan and Dill opposed the bill in the latter claiming that the legislature would have as much right to make an appropriation to the lawyers as to assist the dairy interest.

Mr. Kimbrough favored the passage of the bill, and called Mr. Lonegan's attention to the fact that he was on record as votaue for the bill two years ago.

The vote was reconsidered, ayes 36, nays 40, and the bill failed, ayes 36, nays 38.

Mr. Bassett's bill to provide that a case may be remanded from the Supreme Court direct to the trial court, was read a first time and passed, the ayes being 184 and the nays 1. After the joint assembly the House clopsured.

THE SENATE.

When the House returned the morning the Speakers announced Senators Gilham and Bassett as a committee to wait on H. R. Davis to the effect that the Senate for the purpose of taking the oath of office, which was administered by Judge Jesse J. Phillips, Senator Tullis then presented a resolution to the effect that the name of Senator Davis be substituted for that of the late Senator Bridges on all standing Committees. Adopted.

Senate bill No. 70 was taken up on third reading per special order. This bill provides for the election of an additional Judge in each of the Judicial Districts outside of Cook county.

Mr. Hamilton favored the bill, showing that its passage was necessary from the fact that a summer of the Judicial circuits were overburdened with business. Mr. Norris opposed the bill. His district, he said, had no use for more Judges, and he knew that they wanted none. Mr. Hamilton's better opinion. Mr. Whitney opposed the bill. He thought that they had enough Judges in the Ninth Judicial District in which he resided. All that we necessary was for them to be industrious and to attend strictly to business.

Mr. Duncan favored the bill. He lived in a district that was very seriously dosed. (The Ninth.) The bill was passed with the emergency clause, ayes 39, nays 11.

PETITIONS.

Were presented by Messrs. Thompson, Hutchison, Newman, Bassett, Mack, Higgins and Adams from Grand Army posts asking for the passage of the bill for the passage of the bill providing for the support of a Soldiers' Home in Illinois.

Mr. Mason presented a petition on the part of citizens and voters, praying that the Cook county poor house.

In answer to inquiries,

Mr. Duncan favored the bill. He lived in a district that was very seriously dosed. (The Ninth.) The bill was passed with the emergency clause, ayes 39, nays 11.

PETITIONS.

Were presented by Messrs. Thompson, Hutchison, Newman, Bassett, Mack, Higgins and Adams from Grand Army posts asking for the passage of the bill providing for the support of a Soldiers' Home in Illinois.

Mr. Mason presented a petition on the part of citizens and voters, praying that the Cook county poor house. In answer to inquiries,

I have personal knowledge of matters in the Senate, but this is the first time I ever presented one of which I was ashamed. It is humiliating to me to know that in the great State of Illinois there has been in poor houses—soldiers who fought for the Republic—and that the Legislature, who are compelled to petition this State Legislature to provide a home for soldiers' home. Gentlemen each appeals and pay no attention to them.

Mr. Greenleaf presented a petition from citizens of Chicago praying the passage of the bill providing for the reprinting of the 1880 census by the Legislature.

The next special order was the consideration of Senate bill No. 69, amendatory to R. S. 130, providing for the restitution of stolen property on conviction of the thief, at the rate of 15 cents per mile, the committee having reported favorably thereon. The pending question was on the substitute the minority report, offered by Messrs. Bassett, Mack, Higgins and Bierley for the majority report. Mr. Bierley spoke at length in favor of the minority report.

Mr. Wheeler favored the minority report.

Mr. Streeter spoke loudly in favor of the rights of the common people.

Mr. Thompson raised a point of order that the gentleman from Mercer was not speaking to the question and was not answered.

Mr. Streeter moved that the bill be printed, also the minority report and that the former be placed on the special calendar. The motion was lost. A vote was then taken on the minority report which was defeated by a large majority.

Mr. Duncan then introduced senjuiry as to what had become of his bill providing for the sale of the Illinois and Mississippi canal railroad bill.

A petition resolution was presented by Mr. Snyder, providing that Gov. Oglesby, Auditor Rutherford and Secretary of State be authorized to select some suitable person to act as a committee to look after the location of the proposed monument to the memory of the late Gen. John A. Logan. Referred to the Senate. The resolution also extends thanks to Charles P. Chesbrough for his many services and motion and report.

Mr. Snyder introduced a resolution providing that State The committee on motion of Mr. Merritt, was unanimously adopted.

The Senate then joined the House in joint session.
